I, Lena Sappenfield, am trying to write the history of my ancestors. Some of these date back to 1748. What little reference I have, or can remember my parents telling me, and I can remember a lot myself. Some of the dates have been copied off markers in cemeteries. Some of the information my sister, Flora Miller, sent me. I have obtained some old history of the Voyles family, on my mother's side. Mother's mother was Lucinda Voyles Simpson and was a descendant of the Voyles that came from Wales in 1748. Flora gave me the following. Laura Nunumacher wrote it for her, she got it from Dr. Ellis' wife, who was a daughter or granddaughter of Dave Voyles' brother and lived in New Albany, Indiana.

The Voyles' History

In the year 1748, William Voyles, with his father and three brothers, came from Wales to Charleston, South Carolina. William, the oldest, was 14 years old and upon their arrival was an apprentice as a deck hand for four years to work out a debt incurred by the family during passage. He was estranged from his family because of this, and when he was released at the age of 18, he left home and went to North Carolina where, according to C. V. Voyles, he established a friendly relationship with his uncle, C. V. Voyles great, great grandfather. William married an Italian woman named Hannah Rhodesia Bundy and established a home in North Carolina. He shortly enlisted in the Cause of the American Revolution. William Voyles' brothers were as follows: John, who died near the line dividing North and South Carolina; Thomas, who moved to Mercer County, Kentucky; and James Voyles who died on the Godkin River in North Carolina. Children and grandchildren of these live in many states. There seems to be yet a different branch of this same family in North Carolina, and they still keep the original spelling of their name, spelled Voiles.

I wrote to county authorities and advertised in Cabarras County, North Carolina in 1906 and procured this data. I corresponded with C. V. Voyles, an attorney, who mailed me a clipping taken from Salem, Indiana paper dated 1876 and mailed to his father by old Dave Voyles of Washington County, Indiana. My father, Wilfred Voyles' Uncle Dave Voyles, who lived beyond 90 years of age, who was a son of William. Uncle Dave and C. V. Voyles' father always corresponded and considered themselves cousins.

C. V. Voyles said after William fell out with his family, he wrote an Uncle David in Wales and induced him to come to America. The C. V. Voyles family descended from this family of David.

William served in the American Revolution - there is no record of what he did between his 18th year and the Revolution, he could have fought in the French and Indian War. We have definite information from our branch of the family that he fought in the American Revolution, was one of the Marions, and rendered splendid service to his country. He was paid for his time in the Revolution by a grant of land from the government of North Carolina. This was found from official state records in North Carolina. The land was on the frontier, he moved there with his family.

Old Dave's daughter, Barbara Drucella Johnson, told us many stories of the frontier and how they were in constant danger of Indians. Their log house was so constructed that they could stay inside and shoot from above. The story relates how the Indians came and drove off the cattle. William and the other boys went in search of them, they were gone two or three days, and those left behind at home, including her father "Old Dave", who was one of the younger children, were in constant terror, especially at night. Indians came another time and surrounded the house, and they boarded the windows for protection. The older children first immigrated to Kentucky, then to Indiana.

William died about 1804 in Cabarras County, North Carolina, which was in a larger frontier. He was buried in the family burying ground on the old farm. C. V. Voyles said his father knew where the graves are and offered to take me to them if I came down. The younger children remained on the farm in Cabarras County with their mother after William died. They worked very hard in raising cattle. They loaded them on flat boats, down the Godkin River to Charleston, South Carolina, a distance of 300 miles. The mother, Rhodisa (Rhodia?) (Bundi, Bundy?) Voyles died of a wasp sting in the ear. The children then applied in court to get a settlement, sold the old farm, and moved to Kentucky. Robin, Rachel, and David drove a covered wagon. It took about two months to make the trip.

I have seen the old flint used to make a fire while traveling. Old Dave's descendants still had the covered wagon in 1906 or part of it. It is owned by Elmer Voyles of Palmyra, Indiana. A great grandson of "Old Dave", Malinda Voyles Brown, had just learned to walk when they started, and had to learn to walk all over.

They had to cut down trees and tie them to the back of the wagon when they crossed the Cumberland Gap to keep them from pitching head long down the mountains. Great piles of trees lay at the bottom where so many had gone before.

Robin's crippled daughter was brought in a hammock swinging from the top of the wagon. Robin and Rachel stopped for a year in Mercer County, Kentucky. Old Dave came on to Indiana, crossed the Ohio River on a raft, and came to Washington County, where he camped one night with his father's old wilderness mate, Townsend. He endured many hardships getting out logs to build a house in a snowstorm the winter had set in. Other settlers helped. They had had a family falling out in Kentucky, which is why Dave came alone. The next year, Robin and Rachel came to Indiana. Soon the family differences were patched up. The Voyles were hard shelled Baptists and very religious.

Robin took a claim near Dave. Robin had already been married twice when he left Carolina. He had three children with his first wife. His second wife made the trip with him, Mary Elizabeth Lingh - they had one child. Uncle Robin and Mary Elizabeth are buried on the Lindsay D. Voyles farm near Big Springs, Washington County, Indiana, 10 miles south of Salem. About 1835, the Voyles of Indiana changed the spelling to Voyles from Voiles.

David, son of William, married Barbara Endy September 11, 1811. They came to Washington County in 1813. He died February 17, 1882 (Barbara b. 1789, d. September 16, 1846). They are buried on the farm he settled and cleared.

William Voyles was our great, great grandfather, and David Voyles was our great grandfather, our mother's grandfather. Our great grandparents, David and Barbara Voyles, and their children:

Nathanel Voyles, b. October 29, 1813.
Malinda Voyles Brown, b. January 11, 1815.
Lovina Voyles Royse, b. November 1, 1817.
Thomas Voyles, b. December 31, 1819.
Margaret Lucinda Voyles, b. March 28, 1821.
Rhoda Voyles Spigler, b. April 7, 1822.
David Voyles, b. October 25, 1824.
Drucilla Voyles Johnson, b. February 10, 1827.
Betsy Voyles Haines Hoagland, b. October 17, 1828.

Our grandparents:

Margaret Lucinda Voyles (b. March 28, 1821, d. January 20, 1888) married August 14, 1840 to Addison Simpson, b. August 10, 1817, d. February 18, 1863 from diphtheria. He is buried at the Jasper Voyles farm.

Addison farmed and drove a huckster wagon. To this couple were born six children:

David Simpson, born about 1842, was a soldier in the Civil War. He was listed as a 2nd Lt. in the 66th Indiana Infantry, also as a Lt. in the Indiana Volunteers in 1861-63, near Chattanooga. He died in the soldiers' home at Knightstown, Indiana, buried in the soldiers' cemetery.

Isaac Simpson (b. June 8, 1844, d. June, 1924) married Amanda Colvin, lived on a farm near South Liberty Church near Palmyra in Washington County, Indiana. (A late second marriage is listed w/Mary Rector, no children.) Children:

Mary L. Simpson, b. 1868, d. 1959, married George Goss (b. 1864, d. 1941). She and Grandma Amanda never got along too well. Three children:

Wilbur, b.
Harley, b.
Edna, b.----, d. July 2, 1988 due to injuries from a fall, buried at Lindenwood Cemetery, Ft. Wayne. She married Walter Davis, one son:

Richard, b. ----, now deceased.

Elmer I. Simpson, married Mayme (Marion A.) Bosley July 25, 1897 (d. October 21, 1936). (Elmer and Mayme were neighbors of Lewis and Hattie Klinker. They entertained Maxine, Beaty, and Helen a couple days in 1933 and took them to the Salem fair. Helen remembers them as being very nice.) Two children:

Erma Lilleen, b. August 31, 1899, d. November --, 1994, married Jesse Link September 3, 1919, later married Alva H. Mull (b. June 30, 1895, d. June 16, 1958) on April 25, 1945. She was in real estate with her family and second husband. She lived in Salem, Indiana. (Helen, Ilene, Pat Ohler, and Mary Cunningham visited her in June 1990.) Children:

Ember Orin Link, b. July 30, 1920.

Virginia Lavonne Link, b. December 17, 1922.

Aubrey Robert, died at 5-1/2 mos.

Bano Loris, married Orin Ezra Marshall September 23, 1918. (He d. October 10, 1918 from flu contracted during the war. She later married Lawrence Coats. They are now deceased. One child:

Marion Elizabeth, died at age 18.

Effie L. Simpson, b. 1878, d. 1922, married Sy Ellis, three children:

Anna Cora Ellis Smith, b. 1900, d. 1927.

Anna R. Simpson, b. 1886, d. 1973, married Cort Kiddy Martin. One daughter, Ethel. They separated and Anna later married John L. Sharrer (b. 1882, d. 1946), one daughter. Anna was a telephone operator for Palmyra years ago.)

Pearl, b. January 31, 1913, married ---- Rainbolt, one son:

John Franklin, b. March 14, 1933.

James Simpson, died young, see Lick Branch Cemetery.

Cora Simpson, married ---. One daughter Daisy, who had two children, Liddie and Lydia (?).

William Simpson, died young, see Lick Branch Cemetery.

Amanda Jane Simpson, b. July 29, 1846 in Indiana, d. August 16, 1933, married Rudolph Henry Miller (b. October 14, 1833 in Lengrich, Germany, d. November 5, 1904) on November 21, 1861. Grandpa Rudolph was a mild mannered man like Grandma Hattie, but Grandma Amanda was quick on the trigger and spicy like Aunt Helen. Rudolph always raised a lot of plants and flowers, got a lot of seed catalogs; Aunt Sadie remembered him sitting by fireplace or south window in living room looking at the catalogs. In the fall he would dig a pit for his plants for winter; people would come to him for funeral flowers, etc. Sadie remembered that he worked with trees, etc., came up with a seedless persimmon tree. He raised ginseng (looked about like grape vines), used for medicinal purposes. He willed his ginseng patch to Johnson, his oldest son. He died of stomach cancer, Aunt Sadie remembers they put pennies on his eye lids to keep them closed. Grandma stayed on the farm for several years after he died. Homer would go over at night and stay with her. Some said she would take a lighted candle up the stairs to bed, luckily never set the house on fire. People from Kentucky would come over to hunt in her woods, and Grandma would go out and shoot a shot gun to scare people away. Eventually the farm was sold and Grandma lived among the children taking turns. She and Grandpa Lewis didn't get along very well so would spend some time with Sadie's, Harry's, etc. She walked with an old broom handle for a cane; Lewis made her a nice cane, but she wouldn't use it. Aunt Helen still has the cane. Grandma was a democrat, Lewis a republican, so they argued politics a lot. Aunt Helen remembers knocking at the door once and being bawled out by Grandma Amanda because Hattie was busy and she shouldn't bother her. Aunt Helen remembers her dad buying them ice cream cones and Grandma Amanda thinking the cones were made of wood.)

(Jean Feiock told {per her grandmother, Flora} that after Rudolph passed away, Amanda would not move his coat and hat from the coat rack where he had left them. She said Amanda was "spicy", but very devoted to Rudolph.) Their children:

George Marion Miller, b. November 28, 1862, d. August 29, 1864.

Marinda Melvina Miller, b. February 22, 1864, d. September 4, 1864.

Our great grandparents on mother's father's side:

Isaac Simpson, Sr., b. in 1786, d. October 19, 1846. His wife, Elizabeth Byerley Simpson, b. May 5, 1795, d. December 14, 1869. Born to them were three sons and several daughters:

Addison Simpson (our grandfather) married Lucinda Voyles.

John Simpson married Julia ---- . **

Lucinda Brown

Aunt Kate Miller's mother

Aunt Liz Miller's mother

I believe one daughter married Miles Burton

I believe one daughter married Wash Moss

(I may be mistaken about these daughters.)

*Our mother's Uncle William Simpson and wife, Julia Miller, had nine children:

Lewis the oldest was married three times, his wives all died. First wife was Roda who had two or three babies who all died and so did Roda. He later married Bertie Finley, daughter of Dr. Finley and wife, then Bertie passed away. Later, he married Pearl Kirby and now she has been dead at least 30 years. Lewis died January 16, 1951, at age 85 years.

Lizzie married George Sears and they had seven children: Pearl, Ernest, Archie, Lillian, Eunice, Gladys, and Teresa. The two last named died from polio. Lizzie and George are now dead.

John R., b. June 18, 1877, d. September 5, 1970, married Stella M. Seacat, (b. July 28, 1884, d. April 24, 1975) on March 16, 1905. They had six or seven children. One son, Norman "Pete", b. November 1, 1916, married Golda Mae (b. May 16, 1932, d. May 3, 1975). He remarried. (John, who was over 6 ft. tall, had both legs off above the knee, due to poor circulation. Uncle Ben Klinker said it made you feel better after going to see him because he had such a positive attitude. Helen, I.B. and Uncle Ben visited him one day while in his wheelchair. Helen asked to take a picture of him so he immediately rolled his chair out to the back yard and she took a picture of him and his wife - she has extra copies of this picture. He is buried at Horners Chapel.)

Billie Simpson died when a young man.

Cyrus Simpson died young.

One child died in infancy.

Lydia married Emmet Nale - no children. She died not long after.

As written by Sadie Viola Klinker Longardner, and since added to by various members of the family.

Henry (Henrich) Frederick (Fredrick) Klinker (father of our father, Lewis Klinker; son of Henry William and Menna Klinker), b. March 27, 1836, in Westfalen, Germany. He married Mary Frances Lamping (b. June 29, 1846 in Westfalen, Germany, daughter of Fredrick and Lucy Lamping) on September 18, 1867. They lived near the Rhine River, and were united with the German Reform Church. Grandpa was a mail carrier when he met Grandma. They came to the United States on a ship named Lord Baltimore about October 1869(?) (after Lincoln's assassination), and during the two weeks' traveling time, one upsetting incident occurred - a small baby died on board ship and was buried at sea. They spent some time in Baltimore visiting a cousin, before going to Indiana to live near some more cousins. He bought 60 acres near the Miller family. Although Grandpa later wanted to go back to visit family in Germany, Grandma was afraid because the captain had asked them all to pray that the ship would not sink during a storm on the way over. They occasionally visited northern Indiana to visit Lewis and family, but otherwise did not travel far from home.

Grandpa had four brothers, also of Westfalen, and Mary had a brother, Henry. (Mary also apparently had a sister, Amelia Rothschild, who lived in Louisville, Kentucky and was friends with Aunt Lena). Mary was a diabetic and had a bad leg. She passed away on a farm close to Palmyra on February 23, 1916 at age 69 after a long illness. Grandpa passed away September 27, 1929 at the home of his daughter, Cora Avery, in Palmyra, Indiana, at age 93 years, 6 months. There were 12 children, nine of whom grew to be adults. They attended and were members of the German M.E. Church at Central Barren south of Palmyra. They became members in 1871. Grandpa got three German newspapers, and read them up to his death. They never learned to read English, though they spoke it some. Grandpa was a little man, and Grandma a large woman. It seems that Grandpa was rather close with his money. They are both buried in the cemetery by the Central Barren's church. We lived a mile from them when I was a child. I remember talking to them on the telephone. They were quite hard to understand. Grandma baked the best cookies. I can remember they both wore wooden shoes at home.

The children of Henry and Mary Frances Klinker:

Anna Maria Henriette Klinker, was born December 9, 1868, christened on January 1,1869, in Germany. When she was two years old, she and her parents came to the U.S.A. She married Henry Herthel, lived on a farm close to Palmyra, and they had three children. She was buried in Big Springs Cemetery.

Ida Herthel, married ----- Bullington; had red hair, no children, died of cancer.

Roscoe Herthel, married, now deceased - served in World War I.

Shelby Herthel, now deceased - not married.

There were no grandchildren. Aunt Anna lived to be 89 years of age, d. January 29, 1957.

Sophia M. Klinker, was b. April 15, 1870, d. August 15, 1941. She married William C. Haub (b. August 25, 1871 in Rooster Run Farm near New Salisbury, d. May 25, 1956). Both are buried at Central Barren Cemetery, Harrison Co. Aunt Sophia and Uncle Bill lived in Palmyra, Indiana. Sophia died at age 71. VOYLES ...

The name Voiles, Voyles, could have come from France as the word is Voile for a certain type of fabric which was made in France. Today a voile fabric is a sheer fabric, sometimes plain and sometimes with an allover print. One source says that the Voyles were Huguenots and were persecuted and driven out of France. Some went to Wales for a time. So since voile is a French word it is likely that they did originate from France.

Jacob Voiles or Voyles came to America with his 4 sons from Wales in 1748 or 1759 as both dates are named. They came from Wales to Charleston, South Carolina.

William, your ancestor, was only 14 at the time of his crossing and he was apprenticed as a deck hand for 4 years to work out a debt made by the family during this passage. Because of this, he was estranged to his family and when at 18 he was released, he left his home and went to North Carolina. Apparently he had an uncle of the Voyles family there at the time.

JACOB VOYLES AND HIS 4 SONS CAME FROM WALES.

1. William Voyles at the age of 14. Birthdate circa 1734.

2. John Voyles, who died near the North and South Carolina dividing line.

3. Thomas Voyles moved to Mercer County, Kentucky

4. James Voyles, who died on the Godkin River in North Carolina

Their home appears to have been in Cabarras County, North Carolina. You can follow the Gadkin River in that area. Some of their descendants may be found in Indiana as well as North Carolina. It is hard to know at this point how to put them in the proper families.

But we can follow William and his family down to the present generation in 1998.

William married an Italian woman named Hannah Rhodesia Bundy and established a home in North Carolina. William died about 1804 in Carbarras County, N. C. and is buried on the family farm. Later on the mother Rhodesia died of a wasp sting in the ear. William received some of his land in North Carolina from the government for his service with the Marions, who were a guerrilla band during the Revolution, commanded by Francis Marion.

As they were on the frontier they were in constant danger from the Indians. Their log house was so constructed that they could stay inside and shoot from above. The story goes how the Indians came and drove off the cattle. William and the other boys went in search of them and were gone two or three days. Those left behind were in constant danger and "old Dave" who was one of the younger children were in constant terror especially at night. Indians came another time and surrounded the house and they boarded the windows for protection.

After the father died the children stayed on the farm with their mother. They worked hard in raising cattle. They loaded them on flat boats and went down the Gadkin River to Charleston, South Carolina, a distance of 300 miles. After the death of their mother the children applied in court to get a settlement, sold the old farm, and headed to Kentucky. David, Robin, and Rachel drove a covered wagon and it took about 2 months to make the trip.

Some of the descendants still had part of the covered wagon in 1906 in Palmyra, Indiana. Little Malinda Voyles Brown had just learned to walk and she had to learn all over again after the trip. They had to cut down trees and tie them to the back of the wagon when they crossed the Cumberland Gap to keep them from pitching headlong down the mountains. Great piles of trees lay at the bottom where so many had gone before.

Robin had a crippled daughter who made the trip and spent the trip in a hammock swinging from the top of the wagon. Robin and Rachel stopped for a year in Mercer County, Kentucky, and David came on to Indiana. He crossed the Ohio River on a raft and came to Washington County, Indiana. He endured many hardships getting out logs to build a home in a snowstorm as the winter had set in. Other settlers helped.

When Robin came the next year he took a claim near Dave. He had already been married twice before he left Carolina. His second wife made the trip with him.

married

Hannah Rhodesia Bundy or Bundi

1. Joseph Voyles m. Elizabeth Townsend

2. David or Dave Voyles m. Barbara Endy
   1787-1882 1811

   David was said to be the 7th child.

3. Robin Voyles m. 1. 3 children
   m. 2. Mary Eliz. Lingh 1 ch.

4. Rachel Voyles

5. Daniel Voyles 1793- m. Sarah

If David was 7th, there must have been others. We find the following in Washington County, Indiana, by the census reports and the birthdates of some who might have been children of William and Hannah.

Thomas, born 1782 Abel, born 1785 David, born 1787
Daniel, born 1793 John, born 1796 Joseph, born 1800

Just possible son's of William and Hannah Rodeshia. We can be sure about David and Daniel. These were still living in 1860 census.

Children of ? VOYLES are:

Caulk

i. JACOB2 VOYLES, b. Bet. 1745 - 1750, Denigbhshire, Wales; d. Bef. 1790, South Carolina.

ii. DAVID VOYLES.

Generation No. 2

2. JACOB2 VOYLES (?1)1,2 was born Bet. 1745 - 1750 in Denigbhshire, Wales3, and died Bef. 1790 in South Carolina3.

Notes for JACOB VOYLES: A history of William and Hannah Voyles as given by Ervin Voyles, obtained from Joan Bray 9 Aug, 1999. Jacob Voyles and his four sons came from Denbighshire, Wales to Charleston, SC about 1759. William was the oldest, born in 1745, Thomas born 1750, James and John were twins born 1755. There has been no information on their mother it is presumed she died before they left Wales. Jacob was very poor and went in debt for their passage to America, so he hired William age 14 out as a deckhand for four years to pay off this debt. It is not known where the ship sailed in the four years, but it is believed that it made several trips from Wales to this country. On the return trips to Wales William would stay with his Uncle David who lived in Herefordshire. After about three years William convinced his Uncle David to come to America and he settled in Old Mecklenburh County, now Cabarrus south of Concord. About a year later when William finally had worked out the debt to his father he returned briefly to South Carolina. Not liking the treatment of being compelled to work four years as a deckhand he left South Carolina and came to North Carolina to live with Uncle David. There is no information on his father Jacob, it is thought he probably lived with his son John near Greenville, South Carolina.

Children of JACOB VOYLES are:

i. WILLIAM3 VOYLES, b. 1745, Danbighshire, Wales, England; d. January 18, 1798, Cabarrus Co., NC.

ii. THOMAS VOYLES3, b. 1750, Denbighnshire Co.Wales3; d. Aft. 1812, Washington Co., KY3.

iii. JAMES VOYLES3, b. Bet. 1750 - 1755, Wales, England3; d. 1790, Rowan Co., NC (On YadkinRiver)3; m. AGNES CORZINE3, Abt. 1779, Cabarrus Co., NC3; b. 1751, Cabarrus Co., NC3.

iv. JOHN VOYLES, b. Bet. 1750 - 1755, Danbighshire, Wales, England; d. Bet. 1820 - 1830, Greenville, SC.

Generation No. 3

3. WILLIAM3 VOYLES (JACOB2, ?1)3,4 was born 1745 in Danbighshire, Wales, England5, and died January 18, 1798 in Cabarrus Co., NC5. He married HANNAH RHODECIA BUNDI5 1772 in Cabarrus Co., NC5. She was born 1748 in Italy5, and died 1798 in Cabarrus Co., NC5.

Notes for WILLIAM VOYLES: William enlisted in the 1st Batallion of the North Carolina Militia, July 4, 1776. This was one of the North Carolina units that fought with the American Revolution forces. He reenlisted in 1779. The archives at Raleigh has two of his pay vouchers where he was paid in the Salisbury district, May 1782, nine pounds four shillings and in May 1783, nine pounds two shillings both for Military service. He probably was enlisted until the end of the Revolutionary War. It must be remembered that the members of the Militia would fight when needed and return home. He was one of marion's men. General George E. Marion was known in the war as the Swamp Fox. He and his small band of men aided the Revolutionary forces to win many of their battles. He also fought with Generals Gates and Green. He was captured in the battle of Camden by the British, which General Gates lost but he escaped. He was in the battles of Kings mountain, Cowpens, chowan and others. During his enlistment he entered on March 6, 1779, a land grant on the west side of big Coldwater Creek 150 acres in old Mechenburg Mecklenberg?) County. It was not granted until after the close of the war until August 1787. No doubt he and Hanna lived there before he enlisted on this land. The Coldwater Baptist Church is located on or near this land grant. He entered the second grant for another tract May 22, 1794 for 150 acres. Burial: 1798, Cabarrus Co., NC (On Home Farm)5

As written in THE SALEM DEMOCRAT, September 6, 1876

One of the old men and old settlers of this county is DAVID VOYLES. We chanced to see him not long since, and obtained some ancient items, so to speak from him. He was born in Cabarras county, North Carolina, in 1787, being now eighty-nine years of age. He said that he was descendant of "imported stock". His father was a Welchman, and a native of Wales, and his mother was of an Italian, and that the peculiar traits of both nations could yet be seen, more or less, in their descendants. His father died in North Carolina, leaving a widow with five children. Seven years after his father's death, his mother died, and in compliance with her wish, everything but the farm was sold. The family being destitute of nearly everything, made their living by raising cotton and selling it at Charlestown, South Carolina, a distance of 240 miles. After his brother, ABRAHAM and himself became of age, they applied to the court for a partition of the farm left by their father, and it was divided up between the children. DAVID then concluded it was good for a man to be alone, so he went to courting around until he found a "bonnie lass" to suit him, and whom he afterwards married.

He remained in the old North State three years after his marriage, and on November 2, 1814, he started for Indiana Territory, and arrived on the Blue River in Washington County, December 10, 1814, he camped on the farm where James McCool now lives. On the Sunday following, a party of settlers, including VOYLES rode through the woods in search of water, or springs of water, either, and finally found a dripping spring where Voyles finally settled, and where he lives now. The Monday morning after, he took his ax and commenced preparing logs for him a house, and cut half enough that day for a cabin fourteen feet by sixteen. He then "betook himself to thinking" of the hardships associated with such a life in such a county and finally shouldered his ax and resolved never to see the place again. He started to his wife and children but neglected to say where they were at that time, and that night he staid with one of his father's old "mess-mates" in the Revolutionary War. He persuaded David to return to his work and finish his cabin, and go on with his work. In the morning he went back and finished cutting his logs. He then hauled them to the proper place, and with the help of a few neighbors, had his cabin raised.

He then went for his wife and children and brought them to his cabin and put them in it without roof or floor. With the help of two men they began covering his domicil, battling all the time with a snow storm, which raged furiously, his wife, carrying the clapboards, and trying to protect the children from the pitiless storm. He soon had his cabin in pretty good order, and they passed their time very pleasantly in their wilderness home. Being of iron constitution and a strong robust physical frame, he, with the aid of his industrious and economical wife got along splendidly. The country was thickly settled at the time of his arrival. There was but one house then, where the city of New Albany is today. He only knew of three churches in the whole country, a Methodist church at Fredericksburg, a Baptist church where Harrison Denny now lives in Pierce Township, and another in Howard township on the Blue River.

The Indians had been driven away at this period, but wolves, bears, wild cats, panthers, wild turkey, deer and rattlesnakes were plenty. The bears however had become scarce, but David Voyles and some others tracked one in the snow once, to a cave on the land where William Smedley's widow now lives in Pierce Township. He then gave a detailed statement of their attempt to capture the bear and also her three cubs. They sent for George and John Beck, who got the bear and her cubs. As we have detailed the same scene and incident, heretofore, in relating some of Uncle George Beck's incidents, we will omit Uncle David's statement of it.

(I will add the rest of the story at the end of this)

The wolves at that time were very troublesome, and many a hunt did Voyles and his neighbors take for these varmints. They were very bold, coming on the farms and killing sheep by the dozens, and also the young of other stock. He said that he knew of no school house for several years after he came to the country. He is now hale and hearty, says he always was a Democrat and always expects to be. He wants to vote this fall for the Democratic ticket, and believes that it will be elected, and does not know but that it will be the means of extending his pilgrimage a while longer on this mundane sphere.

Story of the bear:

Some years after, DAVID VOYLES, Robert Billips, a man by the name of Fogleman, and some others, ran a bear into a cave on what is known as the William Smedley place in section 29 in Pierce township. There were 9 men and numberless dogs at the cave, for three days they had endeavored to get the bear but to no effect. None of them had had enough experience enough to shoot the bear, although some had ventured in and got scared out. Finally someone proposed to send for John and George Beck, which was agreed to. When the messenger arrived at Beck's and made known his request, the young men agreed to go if the party would give them a hind quarter and the skin. This was agreed to. They had a lantern attached to the end of a pole, which George carried in front of them, while John held the trusty rifle ready for action. Encouraged by Beck's entering the cave, Billips and Fogleman and others entered. They pushed on until they came to a sort of well, in the cave, about seven feet deep, and around this the men had to go very carefully. Those in the rear had just got beyond the hole, when Beck gave the command to halt, as he thought he was near the bear. Billips did not understand the order, and turning quickly back, hit Fogleman, who tumbled into the pit. The yelling commenced for Fogleman was sure he was to be chewed up by the bear. He danced, jumped, and tried to climb, but to no use, for he could not get out. Finally Beck and Billips pulled him out and the way he left that cave was not slow. Those on the outside had heard the screams and supposed the inmates of the cave were being killed.

They started again for their game and soon came to the next. John said that the old one was gone, but that the young ones were there. John told George to hold the light closer, when they heard the cubs squall out. George reached over to get a cub, and as he done so, he saw the "yeller nose" of the old bear. He did not touch the nose or the cub, but gracefully fell back. He then split the end of his pole and put a piece of lighted candle in it and held it up towards the bear. She got out of her nest and came up and smelled the candle, when John shot her dead.

(That is as far as they take the story, but suppose the Becks got their hind quarter and the skin and the rest took the remaining bear and probably the cubs.)

This was written by Sadie Klinker Longardner. The incidents here are from the early 1900's. (Sadie is a sister of Mary Klinker Brown).

My parents were Lewis H. Klinker and Hattie M. Miller. I (Sadie) was born July 18, 1898 in Washington County, Indiana. The county seat was Salem. Our address was Palmyra, Indiana, which is in Harrison County. We lived near Palmyra ... One and one-half miles I think. My grandparents were Henry and Mary Klinker. And on the other side of the family Rudolph and Amanda Miller. All were born in Germany except my grandmother Amanda Miller.

Making apple butter was a big project. The day before was spent in peeling apples. Would need seems to me about 15 bushels, maybe more. The next morning the big outdoor copper kettle was scoured, then rinsed with vinegar and salt. The big fire was made and the kettle placed over the fire. Gallons of sweet cider was boiled until it was boiled down to a small quantity, then the apples were cooked in the cider. The apples were stirred constantly with a large paddle with a very long handle. It took all day. We would take turns stirring. At last spices and sugar were added. Then when it got thick and dark enough, it was poured into cans and jars and sealed. Would have several gallons when done. Either a neighbor or grandmother would help on the big day.

Soap making was another large project. I can't tell you the amounts of ingredients, but Mother used Red Seal lye, borax, several pounds of bacon grease or lard. Maybe other things were used but I don't know what. She would cook it outside in a big iron kettle over the fire. When done it was let cool, then cut in bars. We used this soap for washing clothes.

A soft soap was made from lye she got by putting wood ashes in a wooden box with legs and keeping the ashes wet. Lye or a brown liquid would drip from the ash hopper which she used to make a soft soap that she would keep in a stone crock. We would reach in the crock and get the soap to rub on soiled clothing. Our washing was done on a washboard. We would bleach our white pieces by laying them on the grass for a while. (The sun would do the bleaching)

Wash Day ... The water was heated in the big iron kettle over the fire outside. After rubbing the white clothes through suds on the washboard, they were put in the big kettle to boil. We stirred them around with a big stick. After they boiled, they were taken out of the kettle and rinsed good and hanged to dry on the line or sometimes on the fence. The colored clothes were not boiled but rubbed on the washboard and rinsed good. Many times the clothes froze on the fence or line and didn't dry. We still had to finish drying inside. It would take most all day to wash this way. We didn't have many changes of clothing so they must have been very dirty as we had to wear them several days between washings.

Sorghum Molasses ... We raised sugar cane from which molasses was made. It was planted and raised like corn. When it matured in the fall, the leaves were stripped off and heads of seed on top were cut off. The stalks were taken to a mill where the stalks were crushed and the juice was boiled down making a very tasty molasses or syrup. Sometimes we had cane stripping parties. The cane was cut and piled in bunches. The young people would get together early in the evening and strip the leaves off. After work was all done refreshments were served and games played. It made a real nice time which we all enjoyed. Our mother made molasses patties of the syrup by cooking in a skillet adding butter and granulated sugar. Then cooked until it would harden when dropped in cold water. She would drop on a greased plate forming patties. She would also use sorghum to make cracker jack from pop corn, using black walnut meats which we gathered and hulled in the fall. We also raised peanuts.

Dried Apples ... We peeled apples and cut them in slices. We then spread thinly on clean cloths and laid outside on the porch roof where the sun and air could reach them. We covered the apple slices with a mosquito netting to keep off flies and bugs. The apples when dry were stored in cloth bags. We used apples in winter for delicious pies, first soaking the apples overnight in water. Sometimes we mixed them with dried peaches and cooked until tender and added sugar. They then made good eating. Cream added was very good.

Dried Peaches ... We dried peaches the same way except we didn't peel the peaches. When ready to use, if they were covered with boiling water for a few minutes, most of the skin could be removed from the peaches.

Our School ...

We attended a little one-room school called Lick Branch until I was 13 years old. Probably 25 attended. We had 1¼ miles to walk. When the snow was bad our father would hitch a horse to a log and drag it through the snow, making a path, so we children didn't have to walk through deep snow. There was a little creek running right past our school. It was called Lick Branch. We got our drinking water from a spring near by. One year we had a lady teacher. There were several large boys in school that year. My brother, Harry Klinker, was about ten years old. Just as the teacher rang the bell for classes to start, one of the big boys pinned a bunch of firecrackers to Harry's coat (of course, Harry knew about it) but he pretended to be afraid, so Harry ran the length of the school house jumping over desks and came back to the door where the teacher was standing. She had a wash basin of water which she threw on him thinking his clothes were on fire.

There was a large cemetary at the top of the hill and our school was at the bottom of this hill. This hill was a half mile long.

Cave Sheppard .... This cave was 1¼ miles from our school and sometimes when we had a man for a teacher, he would take us to the cave. We would carry lighted kerosene lanterns and go way back into the cave. There was running water also small openings we would crawl through. Sometimes we took pictures around the entrance. There were several openings miles long inside. Some said they were under the town of Palmyra which was 3¼ or 4 miles away.

Our New House ... The summer I was 10 years old, my parents built a new house. Before starting the new house we built a summer kitchen with wood shed attached. Had a nice fruit celler under the summer kitchen. The old house was torn down, so we stored our clothes and many other things in the wheat grainery. Our beds were put in the barn where we slept. We even had to have places for the carpenters to sleep so their beds were put in the hay loft. Our cooking was done in the summer kitchen. At times we had 7 men to cook for. My sister, Mary, was a small baby. One day my Mother walked to Grandma Miller's to get berries and I had to cook dinner for 3 men working there besides taking care of Mary. I peeled most of the potatoes and apples used that summer. Our Grandma and Grandpa Klinker had apples so we got apples for pies from them. Our old house had a fireplace. The chimney was large. There was a big snake in the chimney when it was being torn down. Our head carpenter worked for $1.50 a day and the others got $1.25. Our dad cut poplar trees for siding. The planer came and planed the wood there. Our roof was slate. Dad hauled it from Salem. I got to go with him to get a load. Went in the farm wagon with two horses hitched to the wagon. A man came with a machine and made nail holes in each slate.

We lived for three years in the new house, and then our parents rented a farm belonging to my Uncle William Klinker near Edgerton, Indiana, so our farm was rented to Uncle Bill and Aunt Lena Libka. My folks had a sale but took cows, horses, our dog, furniture etc. and rented a freight car on the railroad and our dad and my brother Harry rode in the car with the animals to care for them. Mom took the 7 other children on the train to Ft. Wayne. We were then taken to our new home in an automobile by the real estate agent who had sold Uncle William the farm. This man met Mom and us children as the train arrived in Ft. Wayne. Was about 4 A.M. so he took us to the Rich Hotel where we rested and cleaned up. Also had our breakfast served to us before going on to our new home. We had left Southern Indiana in rainy and muddy weather but at our new home everything was covered with ice and snow. Dad and Harry had already arrived when we got there. All this was a new experience for us. None of us children had ever been more than 20 miles from our home before. This was our first automobile ride. The house we moved into had 11 rooms. It was a new house. There was a new furnace, a bathroom, with tub and water in the kitchen. Our home near Palmyra was heated with wood-burning stoves and lights were kerosene. Our old house had a fireplace. Harry, myself (Sadie), Raymond, Homer, Pearl, Ralph and Mary were born in the old house.

Christmas at our house when I was a girl ...

We never had a Christmas tree so on Christmas Eve we would each set a plate on the table with our names written on a slip of paper. We would always find candy and an orange on our plates. Our present would be beside our plate. One Christmas Eve, Santa, (our dad) came to our door with our gifts. He didn't come in but he asked about our little brother named Raymond. We couldn't understand how he should know we had a brother by that name.

The clothes we wore as children ...

Our mother made our clothes. Even Dad's shirts. My first sewing on the machine was to learn to put hems in shirts. As a very young girl, my mother started me sewing quilt blocks of four little square patches. Our mother knitted our stockings. They were blue wool. We would each have two pairs a year which she would keep darned for us. She also knitted mittens for us. For school I had two dresses made of dark colored outing. With my dresses I had to wear aprons of calico or gingham. The dresses were not washed very often but each week we would have a clean apron. When Raymond was small, Mom made coats for him and I from outing. Mine was plain pink. I also had a bonnet or hood she made of the same material. Raymond had a blue coat. When I was about 10 years old Mom paid a lady 50 cents to crochet a pink wool hood for me. It had pretty pink ribbon bows. About this same time she hired a neighbor lady to make a jumper and blouse for me. The jumper was a soft blue wool. The blouse was white with blue dots. The shoes we had for school were black leather with copper toes. Our mother wore dresses called "mother hubbard". They were made with a yoke and the skirt was gathered onto the yoke. They had long sleeves. It took 10 yards of calico per dress. She never wore a belt but tied aprons around her waist. She made our underwear out of unbleached muslin. They were very heavy. In winter we wore long knitted union suits with long sleeves and long legs. Our houses were not heated very well so in cold weather Mom would warm blankets around fireplace or stove and wrap us up in them as she put us to bed.

The calico wasn't wide like material we buy today. It was 28 or 30 inches wide, I think.

Our visits to Aunt Flora, Mom's sister ...

If it was cold weather seemed she always had popped corn for us children. She used a large tall iron kettle and stirred with a long spoon. Always there was big yellow apples. In summer we had homemade ice cream. Our parents also made lots of ice cream. In winter the ice was harvested from ponds by sawing in blocks. It was hauled up and stored in sawdust in an ice house. The ice house was a building with two walls in between which was filled with sawdust. The blocks of ice were placed in sawdust, then each layer was covered with more sawdust. The ice would keep all summer in there.

Our Grandmother and Grandfather Miller ...

Our mother's parents lived 1½ miles North of our home when I was a child. My grandfather Miller was born in Germany. My grandmother was born in the states. She was about 16 when they were married. He was several years older. He died when I was 6 years old in 1904 I think. They lived on a farm where they raised almost every kind of fruit. He would graft trees. He grafted persimmon trees and worked with them until they grew larger and were almost seedless. They had lots and lots of floweres and vines. Beautiful rambler roses, honey suckle, lilies and peonies. They also had a paw paw plant by the kitchen door. There were two of the tallest pine trees I remember seeing just north of lthe kitchen door. They had a very large garden and also a gingseng patch. All kinds of berries, even mulberry trees. After Grandpa died two of my brothers, Raymond and Homer, stayed with Grandma. They went to Lick Branch school from there so we would see them. The boys were young and they would get lonesome. One day Homer came to school and he wanted to go home so he told us a fox had chased him on the way to school. So Raymond went to Grandma's that night in Homer's place.

Sometimes I would stay. When it came bedtime Grandma would light the candle and we would go upstairs to bed. She would always lock the stair door as we went upstairs. There were 3 large bedrooms. On the beds were feather beds, then she would put so many big heavy covers over you it was hard to turn over. Grandma kept some sheep, cows and chickens for a good many years. She lived off of any main road so the huskster came once a week with groceries. He even carried yard goods. Grandma got water from a big open well with a big bucket which she would lower, then had to turn a crank which rolled up the rope and carried it to the top. There was a store place for vegtables and fruits. It was built on top of the ground under the summer kitchen. It was real dark in there so Grandma would light a candle before going in. There were so many bins filled with apples, potatoes and such. Sometimes she would find a snake in the fruit cellar. That was one reason why she used the candle all of the time. When you visited with her and was leaving she would follow you across the big garden to the woods and watch as long as she could see you. Later she learned to live alone. She lived there for many years.

Another thing in her kitchen was a large clock setting on the floor. It almost reached the ceiling. She had a large stone fireplace where she did lots of cooking over the fire. In her kitchen was also a small cook stove that burned wood. I think it had 4 holes to cook over and a small oven.

My girl friends ...

Florence Hertel and Phoebe Braugh lived close by and we decided to put up a mail box about half way between our homes. The box was put on a fence post and then we wrote letters and put in the box for one another. We enjoyed doing this. Florence and her brother, Alvin, had a goat and a wagon and we would hitch the goat to the wagon. We would take turns driving the goat for rides. We would play "Blind Man's Bluff", "Sheep Fold", We would jump rope. The ropes were grape vines we had cut from the woods. We played "Button,Button, who has the Button". We played ball. We always had a rope swing to play in. We made whistles from green hickory sprouts. You could remove the bark by tapping on it and the bark would loosen. You could use pumpkin stems by cutting off the leaf. It's hard to tell just how to make them. We also cut wooden spools in two and made tops. Dolls were made from corn cobs. We would dress them. Sometimes we would pick the little ears that were starting on the corn plant. We liked the ones with red silk. We pretended that they were dolls. The silk was the hair. Dad didn't approve us doing much of this. You could take a piece of ripe corn stalk and make a fiddle. It would really make noises. We used resin to rub on the pieces first.

Our folks butchered hogs for our meat. The bladder was saved and we would clean it up and blow it up. Could tie it to keep air in and play with it like a balloon.

We made what we called a horse from an old broomstick by nailing on pieces for the head and then we would pretend that we were riding a horse.

While we were still small children our parents helped build a new church in Palmyra, Indiana. It was a United Brethren Church. We older children and dad seldom missed church but Mom couldn't go as often with small babies. I believe our father was Sunday School superintendent at this church. I know he led the singing. Then when we moved near Edgerton, Indiana, we attended a Methodist Church and I know for sure that dad was superintendent there.

Our Illnesses ...

As small children we didn't have much sickness except for colds. I had lots of earaches which was treated by holding a hot iron wrapped in a towel and held near the ear. Sometimes with a syringe and warm water, sometimes by blowing tobacco smoke in the ear and then putting in some cotton. When I was about 14 I took the measles. My mother hadn't had them either so all the family except my dad took the measles from me so dad and I had to take care of the rest which included mom and the seven children.

Ernest had had polio or infantile paralysis earlier so he wasn't very well and he required lots of care yet. Ernest had been very ill, so bad, in fact, he wasn't expected to live. It left him with a bad arm and one leg that wasn't right.

The Home Farm ... This was near Palmyra, Indiana

There was 160 acres of land in this farm. Our father cleared many acres of this land. The stumps were hard to get rid of. They made the ground hard to farm. Dad would plow the new ground with a plow called a "jumper" to which one horse was hitched. Was hard to keep the plow in the ground. Many times we children rode on the plow to keep it in the ground. This land would be planted to corn. We raised corn, cow peas, wheat, millet and oats. There were many rocks there so we had to pick them up and pile them. Later dad would come along with a wagon and then we would haul them away. We had some maple trees which we would tap and use the sap that dripped from the trees to make maple syrup. This farm was in Washington County, Indiana. County seat was Salem. In the new ground lots of sprouts grew. We children used hoes to chop them out. In our barnyard was a large pond where in the summer we went swimming. Also we had lots of fish so we fished when we could. Dad would go fishing with us when he had time. The livestock drank from the pond. In winter we skated there. Also the ice was harvested to go in our ice house for summer use. We had a nice young maple tree in our yard when I was small and I took a butcher knife and decided to tap the tree so we could make maple syrup but found that was a mistake for I was punished for almost killing the tree.

Fourth of July ...

This was one day that we looked forward to for there was always a picnic at a grove near Palmyra each year. So we would work real hard to get the corn hoed and clean and what other chores we were to do so we could go to the picnic. We each had a little money to spend. Seems like we always bought cracker jack. There was always a prize in each box. Our Mom would fix a real nice meal of fried chicken and blackberry pie and lots of other goodies. We would spread tablecloths on the ground and place our food on it. Two or three families would put our foods together. There was a merry-go-round there also and it was very special treat if we got to ride on it. A band played and sometimes a balloon would be sent up. Nearly everyone would attend.

The Circus ...

When I was about 11 years old, Mom and Dad took us to see the circus at Salem, Indiana. We drove the spring wagon. Two horses were hitched to it. It had two seats and a top with a fringe around the edge. Mom packed food for us. We were 10 miles from Salem so we left early in the morning so we could be there in time for the parade. We watched by the courthouse. A clown rode up near me on his cycle, took off his hat and fanned my face. He then turned and rode away. That was a really big thing I thought. We then went to see the show. We were late in getting home but we had all had a good time.

Then one other time the folks took us to Corydon, Indiana, to a county fair. That was also a big day. That was the first horse racing I had seen. Corydon is a county seat of Harrison County. This is the last county in the Southern part of the state. Corydon was at one time the capital of Indiana.

We always baked our bread. Mom and our neighbor, Mrs. Herthel, used liquid yeast so one time Mom would use it and then she would save a start for Mrs. Herthel. We only lived a quarter-mile apart so we children would take the yeast from one mother to the other.

We always saved hickory nuts, hazel nuts, chestnuts which we got at our Grandma Millers and lots of popcorn. Sometimes we raised our peanuts so in the winter we had lots of popcorn balls to eat.

Baby sitter ...

When we children were small we had a large wooden cradle for the baby to sleep in. When my brother, Raymond, was born I was less than two years old, but Mom had work to do and she would lay Raymond in the cradle and set me in the near end at his feet to rock him to sleep. She said when she would come in we both would be asleep. I would rock Raymond until he would go to sleep and then I would lay my head across his feet and go to sleep also. By me being the oldest girl in the family, I had to help with the care of the other children. There were 11 children in my parent's family. My brother, Harry, was the oldest boy.

How the corn was harvested ...

IN the fall the corn was cut by hand and shocked to let it dry. Then later the shocks were taken down and the corn was husked out. The fodder was hauled in for feed for the cattle. Sometimes the corn stalks were shredded instead of feeding the fodder whole. This was done with a big machine almost like a threshing machine.

Our father used a binder to cut oats or wheat. It would tie it in bundles, then drop it on the ground. We would walk after the binder and shock the bundles of wheat or oats. Sometimes small patches were cut with a cradle. Dad would do this by swinging the cradle by hand to lay the wheat down. Then before shocking you would have to tie it into bundles by hand. When we needed flour Dad would take wheat to the mill in sacks. He would bring flour home in sacks, and also the bran and hull in bags. The bran was used to feed the animals. The wheat was threshed with a big machine run by steam engine. They would go from farm to farm to thresh. The women cooked meals for the men who were helping. Sometimes there would be 15 or more men to feed.

Our Grandfather and Grandmother Klinker ...

Grandmother and Grandfather Klinker lived on a farm 1 mile west of us. Many times we walked through the fields to get there. At one time they lived in an old house, but later built a new house. They kept the old house. It was in the same yard. They also had a summer kitchen. In the summer cooking was done in the summer kitchen and the food was served in the old house. It was always cooler in there. The new house was used more in the winter. My grandparents wore wooden shoes. I still remember Grandma carrying things from one house to the other while wearing wooden shoes. The water was carried from a well near the barn. They also had 11 children. They raised 9. Our Grandmother Klinker had a brother named Henry Lamping.

Going to church ...

There were lots of young people near and not many had transportation so nights when there was church, several young folks would walk and go together. Would attend box socials, pie suppers, last day of school programs the same way and had lots of fun.

Peddlars used to come to your houses ...

A peddlar would carry a couple large suitcases. They would walk. They had such things to sell as notions, thread, jewelery, fancy cushion covers. Also some carried material for dresses. One time my mother bought a pink piece for me a dress. The front had silk braid in the pattern down the front. You could feed a meal to them, then they would sell you something about half-price, they said.

Our Grandma Miller's table ...

Her table always had so many good things left on it. There wasn't ice boxes or refrigerators so the food left from a meal was left on her table and covered with a table cloth. They raised all kinds of fruit so there was always jellies, preserves and pies. And she lived alone so it seemed she couldn't use it all. In the summer at noon enough food was cooked for supper also. By not having any way to keep it longer, we planned to use it that night.

Lick Branch ...

Lick Branch was a creek with a stone bottom so the water was clear most of the time. This creek passed right by our school. It also ran at the north edge of our parent's farm. Some places were deep enough to fish in. Where it went by our place, a foot log was built so one could walk across the creek. The log was a few feet high but boards or planks were built from the log down to the water sort of like a gate to keep the animals where they belonged. We had to cross this creek to go to Grandma and Grandpa Miller's. Grandmother Miller lived 2½ or 3 miles from Palmyra and sometimes she would walk all that way to go to church or shopping. Our grandfather had passed away years earlier. Grandma would always stop at our house. Would take a whole day for her to make this trip.

Palmyra Bank ...

The new bank was built, then they had a big celebration at the opening. Our folks took us. They had a beef barbeque dinner. It was like a picnic.

The cans our Mother used ...

Most of our fruit was canned in tin cans. The tin lid was held in place with resin. Also had glass cans that used lids put on with sealing wax. We had lots of small stone jars or cans that we canned applebutter in.

How meat was prepared for later use ...

Sausage was either stuffed in casings or made into patties, then fried and packed in jars and covered with the fryings or the grease. Hams or shoulders were sometimes sliced and fried and packed in grease too. It would keep well this way. Some of the meat was seasoned, then hung in a smoke house where a small smudgey fire was burned slowly under the meat for several days. We used hickory wood for the smoke. This meat could be kept without refrigeration for months.

The children would dig mayapple roots, dry them and could sell them at the grocery at Palmyra.

We would set box traps and catch rabbits in the wintertime. Then dress them and could sell them for 10 or 15 cents for meat.

Grapes ... and Quinces ...

When our parents were first married, our Grandfather Miller came and started a grape arbor for them. Those grapes were wonderful. Large blue Concord, white grapes, and very sweet pink grapes. The white ones were also very sweet. Then there were small blue grapes,mostly for juice. My brothers and sisters really enjoyed them. The folks also had 2 quince trees. Mom would make quince honey by grinding the quinces and mixing with equal parts of sugar.

These added notes have been written by Betty Brown Fitch as things I could add to the stories of Sadie, my mom's sister. Of course, My mom, Mary Klinker Brown, was younger than Sadie. My mother was born in 1907 so she was 9 years younger than Sadie. She is the Mary that was born in the old house just before they tore it down to build the new one.

By the time my mother, Mary, came along the family was getting pretty large and my mother only remembers "harder times". So I can add a few of her memories. She doesn't tell of many good times and doesn't remember much about circus trips or picnics. The things she tells me about are not the fun things.

In the first place, she was born with red hair and freckles, a real curse for her so it seems. She was often made fun of because of them. And that is interesting because most of the family had red hair and freckles. Sadie did not but Pearl did. And Raymond, Maxine, and Helen. I'm not sure about Harry, but seems that he did too. Of the girls, Sadie and Irene had darker hair. My grandfather, Lewis Klinker had red hair too.

One incident related to me was about her brother Ralph and what he did one day. They were arguing as siblings will do and Ralph dared my mom to put her foot up on the chopping block and he would cut off her toes. Like a real "dummy" she did it and he swung the axe or hachet but she got her foot down in time. Doubt she ever tried that again. She didn't think he would do it.

She said that when she went to school, she would often have to wear the boys hand-me-down shoes and of course she was made fun of because of that too. Apparently they did not buy shoes for everyone and made do. Mom said that sometimes they would take turns wearing the shoes to go to church. Not all could go every time. I don't know if this was just for an especially hard time they were having or if this was the usual for them. At least it is one of those negative things she remembers.

Mom says that one of the things that they took to school to eat was beans on bread. She liked that I guess, even if it was cold by lunch time. Mom never finished high school. She was pretty much at the top of her class in grade school but by the time she was a freshman she hated school and only wanted to stay home and work in the field. So that was what she did. The high school was in Monroeville, Indiana.

Some of the things Sadie talks about are not strange to me. We did some of the same things when I was a small girl. We also raised sorghum cane and took it to a mill and had sorghum molasses made for our use. I can still taste the taste of it. We did this especially during the second world war when sugar was rationed and we could not buy it, so sorghum molasses was our substitute.

As for walking to school in the snow, even in the 1940's Grandpa Warren did that. When he was going to Spencerville he had to walk at least 1½ miles to catch the bus over at Groggs. Of course, he also had to walk to Five Points School which was not quite so far. He would go walking right by my house every morning, with Maxine too, usually with nothing on his head and a short jacket. It's a wonder he didn't freeze to death. I always told him that was the reason he had sinus trouble, but probably that was inherited. I was going to Leo at that time so my dad would take me to catch the bus over on highway 427.

My mom remembers Christmas at her house as an orange and a piece of candy and maybe a hankie by their plate. Perhaps that is why she tried to make a good Christmas for us at home. One thing my mom always bought at Christmas time, usually sent to Montgomery Wards, was a big box of chocolates, and one year she bought a "bucket of candy". I know that came from Montgomery Wards. They always had different sized buckets of candy in their catalogs.

We too had to warm blankets and pillows before running up to bed when we lived on the farm at Leo. There was no heat upstairs and we always kept the stair door closed to keep what heat there was in our living area. So we would hold our pillows and blankets next to the stove and when they were hot we would run upstairs and jump into bed as fast as we could.

I have very faint recollections of my Great Grandma Miller. She died when I was four years old. I must have seen her, beeause that faint memory is there of her sitting in the chair. I don't know if we were in Southern Indiana or if she was at my grandparents home. But I never got to know her. It is possible my memory stems from the picture we have of her sitting in her chair.

I too can remember some earaches we would treat with hot oil dropped in my ear and laying my head on the hot water bottle, which is still a good way to make an earache feel better.

Yes, Warren and I remember cutting corn by hand and husking it and tossing it in the wagon. Sometimes using horses to pull the wagon and later a tractor.

One of my memories of summer kitchens was not a good one. It was one Sunday when we went to my Uncle Ernest's for dinner. I remember that the food was cooked in the summer kitchen and then carried into the house to eat. All I can remember was the flies that swarmed all over the food making it nearly impossible for me to eat. We had learned that flies were dirty and of course this was the farm so we knew where these flies had been. Seemed the rest of the family didn't think much of it so that was probably pretty normal. I know there were covers of screen to put over dishes of food, but I don't remember of any of that this day. I still cringe when I think about it.

As for peddlars and hucksters we still had those in the 30's and early 40's out on the farm at Leo. The huckster would come and have all kinds of groceries etc. We would buy from him and didn't have to be forever running to the grocery store as we do now. Of course, we planned ahead and did not run out of things as much as we do now, or get a notion that we want something that we do not have. And if we did run out we could always find some way to substitute.

We had all of our own fruits and vegtables and meat also. We had chickens, eggs, pigs, cows and milk. It was perfectly normal to butcher a hog and then fry down the meat and put it in glass jars and cover the patties with melted grease and that would preserve it well all winter. Of course we kept it in a cool place. I can still taste sausage taken from a can and reheated for supper. And beef taken from the grease and rolled in flour and fried crisp. That was good. I can't figure out how any of those people ever lived to be 90 years old, but they did. Now one of those meat patties would have your fat allowance for a week.

The basic canning of fruits and vegtables was close to the way we still do it, except we didn't have a pressure cooker at first. But mom did get one as soon as it was available. Most things were made boiling and put into hot jars and sealed with rubber rings and lids. We call that "open kettle" canning and until recently that was good enough, but now they don't want to take any chances with food poisoning so want all canning to be by pressure cooker or hot water bath. The old-time way was hot-water bath for vegtables and open kettle for fruits and tomatoes. I still use open kettle for fruits with a lot of sugar, tomato juice, jellies and jams, pickles etc. Even though they tell us we should not do it that way. It becomes more and more impossible to be independent and do things for yourself. It soon becomes cost prohibitive. O.K. for those with a good pay check or two. The good old ways are not always the very best but at least you could survive without going on welfare. With a little gumption you could provide most everything necessary to life.

I remember seeing the blue gallon canning jars out on the garden fence upside down on the fence posts at Grandma Klinker's farm when I was little.

Mom said that my Grandpa Klinker, her father, had a problem with his stomach and had to be quite careful of what he ate. Had a lot of poached eggs and softer foods. At times he would double over in the field but would keep on working. When he died, it was not of a stomach problem at all, but he got pneumonia and died of that. He was over 70 years old and had retired from farming and was living in Monroeville at the time. Guess he was 69.

One of the things that happened at the Klinker home was that Lewis (my grandpa) and the boys would actually fight and push each other around. That was after the boys became as big as he was. Guess that old German stubborness was pretty strong. It was not in fun, but actually real fist fights.

Klinker stories to add:

My mother, Mary, said that when Grandma Klinker was pregnant with Helen, her last child, that it was during the flu epidemic of 1918. Helen was born in January of 1919 at Payne, Ohio. This would have been shortly before they moved to the Monroeville area. They were all very careful not to bring the flu home because two other woman who were pregnant at that time died with the flu in their neighborhood. At that same time, in the Monroeville area, Grandma Ora Brown lost her new baby Joseph Malin, who had been born in January of 1818. He died of the flu. MOst families were affected in one way or another.

Mom said that they moved to the Monroeville area when she was about 12 meaning probably 1919 or 1920. She is not sure. At that time the Browns would have been living right across the road and would have had Ivan, about 14, and Guy (my dad) about 12, and Ferol, about 10. They would also have had probably John, Hazel, and Mary Jane at that time. John would later die of a ruptured appendix.

Mom said that the two families of children would oftenplay together and she can remember playing in the culvert under the road in the Brown Ditch that went under Barkley road.

Helen can remember her Grandma Miller and told me that she was a very firey woman, but Grandpa Miller was just the opposite. He was quiet and gentle and was a person who raised all kinds of plants, flowers, and trees, grapes etc.

Helen also said that she remembers with tears, at Grandpa Klinker's funeral (that would be her father) that before they closed up the casket Grandma Hattie went over and tucked him in for the last time.

David Voyles (mar Barbara Udy)was the 7th child of William & Hannah Bundy Voils. From the Salem Democrat - Dec 2, 1876, in a story about the older citizens of Salem, IN, David said he was of "imported stock". His father was a Welshman, and a native of Wales, and his mother was an Italian, and that the peculiar traits of both nations could yet be seen, more or less, in their descendants.
Several researchers has failed to find any information about Hannah Bundy Voils.

I found these Voiles on the 1870 census for Morgan County, Indiana. Does anyone know where they belong? Joseph and Samuel were both born in NC in 1810 are they brother's and twins?

This is the information I have in my records. Hope this helps. June

Found out that Ruth Kemp is Ruth Norman, I have that she was b April 01, 1815 Overton, Tennessee d January 18, 1895 Morgan County, Indiana she was first married to Wilburn Kemp May 01, 1831 Morgan County, Indiana Wilburn b March 30, 1811 May 10, 1864 Wayne, Kentucky d May 10, 1864 Morgan County, Indiana.

The marriage to Wilburn may have not been in Indiana but that's the information that I have.

I couldn't find the marriage in the Indiana marriages.
But I did find her and Samuel

Samuel and Rachel's daughter Lucinda Voyles m Silas F. Carson June 12, 1858 Morgan County, Indiana (off of Indiana Marriages)

I hope this helps you some, You have been a big help to me also.

Juanita

Those are heads of households in the census records. I did find that Rienza Riley Voyles m Lydia Jane McAllister July 19, 1873 Butler County, Missouri. He is the only Rienza that I haver ever come across. He did live for a time in Missouri but they moved back to Morgan County Co., Indiana and that is where I believed that they died.

They had a daughter Daisy Maude Voyles b abt 1876 Morgan County, Indiana m Elmer Edward Miller October 17, 1895 Morgan County, Indiana.

Andrew Voyles who married Mary Naugle states on the 1850 census that he was born in 1829 in Virginia, Mary states she was born in Indiana. They were married August 25, 1849 Washington County, Indiana. He may be out of the Virginia/Mass Voiles, Viles, Voyles line instead of Jacob Voiles line. If he was son of Edison Voyles and Barbara Ratts then he would of been born in Indiana m. records state he is the son of Edison Voyles. Error in census.

Also I found Robert Voiles b August 28, 1785 states he was born North Carolina and Hester Morris states she was born in Virginia They are on the Madison County, Illinois Census for 1850

Juanita, My Washington County Indiana Census shows: Jackson Township, Andrew Voyles age 21 Ind, Mary Ann (Naugle) age 21 Va - Eliza J age 2/12. Andrew is the son of Edison & Barbara (Ratts) Voyles.

I am searching for information on Peter Dawson Voyles born 1872 died 1924, married 1893 Wash Co IN, Claudia Fultz b 1870 d 1953. Children: Mayme b abt 1894, Merle b abt 1895 & Mabel. May have lived in Michigan but are buried in Washington Co IN. Thanks, June Voyles

I found a web page at http://www.users.yourvillage.com/avoyles/ancestry/aqwg06.htm#423 That has sources at http://www.users.yourvillage.com/avoyles/ancestry/aqwn06.htm#493 For John Hess Voyles and saying that the parents are John Voyles and Mary, if this is true then Mary was born about 1773 and not in the 1750's and is age 77 on the census in 1850. He also has the census up on the notes page.

which proves that John did not marry Mary Bowman, as she was born and married in Mass. I have a death date for who I believe is Mary Bowman as January 16, 1833. Any way Mary Bowman was married in Mass. And I believe that John's and James's line are mixed up with the line out of Mass. they also took on the name Voiles, Voils, Voyles and Viles which makes things confusing. Mary Bowman's family was also in the Carolina's and they seemed to have the same names that our in John and James's line.

Winston Fred Voyles passed away on the 13th of August of 2002 in Chickasha Oklahoma. He was born on the 31st of July of 1915 in Cement Oklahoma. He was the son of Jesse Bailess Voyles and Mattie Lou Lipscomb. He is buried in Ft. Cobb Oklahoma.
His family line is as follows...
Winston Fred Voyles (Oklahoma)
Jesse Bailess Voyles (Georgia)
William Voyles (S.Carolina)
John Balus Voyles (S.Carolina)
Amos Voiles (S.Carolina)
John B. Voiles (Wales)
Jacob Voiles (Wales)

A while back I posted to the Voyles list about what I found on CD 5 about what I found on it that they had Moses Voyles as the son of John Cripps Sr. Vowells. I was wondering where the Dates of William and Hannah Bundy Voyles children came from.

I was going through my packed boxes on some of the Voyles/Voiles family. I now know where they came from.

I found I had a DAR application for Cora Belle Voyles Burks
Cora married Walter Demery Burks

I will post what it says.

Application for membership to the Natl. Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Washington. D. C.
State-Minnesota, City-Duluth
National Member 135829 Mrs. Cora Voyles Burks, wife of Walter D. Burks

Decendent of William Voils
Examined and approved Nov. 6, 1917. Signed Mrs. Cora Voyles Burks, Salem, Indiana R. 5 #27

I Cora Voyles Burks, being of the age of eighteen years and upwards, hereby apply for membership in the Society by right of lineal decent in the following line from William Voils, who was born in Wales, 1741 and died in Cabarrus Co., NC., 1804 (William was deceased before 1804, my note) and who served in the war of the revolution, Cabarrus Co., NC.

I was born in the town of Crandall, County of Harrison, state of Indiana.
1. I am the daughter of Wilford F. Voyles born 1852 died___and his (1) legal and lawful wife Elizaeth Davis Voyles b 1850 d 1887 married 1881.
2. The said Wilford Voyles was the son of William Voyles b 1816 d 1895 and his legal lawful (2)

wife Elizabeth Keyt Voyles born 1817 d 1895 married 1847
3. The said William Voyles was the son of Rolin Voyles b 1778 died 1833 and his (2) legal wife Elizabeth Lingle married Aug. 27, 1811
4. The said Rolin Voyles was the son of William Voils b 1741 and his ()legal and lawful wife Hannah Bundi married 1772.

And he the said William Voils is the ancestor who assisted in establishing the American Independence, while acting in the capacity of private.

"William Voils came to Charleston S.C. from Wales in 1755 at the age of 14-at the age of 18 he went to Cabarrus Co., NC where he married and where he died in 1804. His own children came to Indiana and Kentucky but his nephews and nieces remained and many of their decendants live in NC and SC today-decendants are scattered everywhere."

Ancestors Service: My ancestor's services in assisting in the establishment of American Independence during the War of the Revolution were as follows: "He was one of Marion's men and fought in the Battle of Camden."

Give below is a reference by volume and page, to the documentary or other authority in which you found your record: "Records of the Revolutionary War, Collections of the North Carolina Historical Commission, Army Account's Volume No. 5 Book of Certificates."

Line of decent-Bible records, History of Lawrence, Orange and Washington Counties, Indiana (1884) p. 878.

My Revolutionary ancestor was married 1772.
Children

Joseph born Feb. 25, 1773 died at the age of 19
Rachel born July 28, 1775 married Joseph Fulk
Rollin born ....14, 1778 married 1. Mary, 2. Elizabeth Lingle
Thomas born Sept. 25 1782 married Ester Headley
Abel born June 28, 1785 married 1. Katie Lee, m 2. Judy Schraft
David born Jan 31, 1787 .....
Moses born " 22, 1790 married Ruth Townsend
Daniel born Nov 8. 1792 married 1. Sally White, maybe 1st 2. Mary Noblitt
Hannah born April 14, 1795 married Silas Townsend

Silas Townsend father was a Revolutionary mess mate of William Voyles

ss. Decatur, Minn. 4 Oct., 1917 Charles E. Bostwick

I don't understand Able's marriages, I have him married to Jane Kelly and Catherine S. Huff (another mystery perhaps) Able might have been married four times? Any thoughts.

I have Cora Belle Voyles b May 18, 1881 Crandall, Harrison County, Indiana d October 30, 1953 Greencastle, Putnam County, Indiana m June 16, 1912 Washington County, Indiana Walter Demery Burks b Reelsville, Putnam County, Indiana d December 10, 1957 Greencastle, Putnam County, Indiana.

Her father Wilford Franklin Voyles b September 02, 1852 Near Halo, Washington County, Indiana d January 19, 1930 Indiana b Big Springs Cemetery, Pierce Township, Washington County, Indiana m August 04, 1880 Salem, Washington County, Indiana, Amanda Elizabeth Davis b 1850 d August 12, 1887 Crandall, Harrison County, Indiana b Standish Cemetery, Vernon Township, Washington County, Indiana

Cora's family must have had the family Bible or she knew who had it.

Another Obituary.....Henry Frederick Klinker, son of Henry and Menna Klinker, was born at West Fallen, Germany, March 27, 1836. Died at the home of his daughter, W. F. Avery, Palmyra, Ind., September 27, 1929, aged 93 years, 6 months.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Lamping, September 1867. To this union twelve children were born, nine of which survive him. Viz: The Mrs. Anna Herthel, Sophia Haub, Lena Libke, Katie Coleman, Cora Avery, Palmyra, Ind., and Stella Miller, New Albany. Three sons, Lewis of Monroeville, Ind., Will, of Lafayette, Ind., Ben, of Woodburn, Ind., forty grandchildren, one brother, August Klinker of West Fallen, Germany. His companion preceded him in death fourteen years ago.

While a young man he united with the German Reform Church in Germany. he emingrated to America in 1869, and lived for a number of years in the vicinity known as the Barrens, near friends whom he had known in the Father Land. He united with the German M. E. Church in 1871 and remained an ardent adherent to the faith until death.

The deceased read much and was familiar with the current affairs of Germany. Unassuming, scrupulously honest, a good, grand man has lain down his burdens, and is now under the watchful care of Him who doeth all things well.

Dearest father, you have left us, in this sorrow, grief and pain,
We are hoping soon to greet you in that fair Celestial reign.

Funeral services were conducted from Zoar Church, Central Barrens, of which he has been a member for fifty years. Sunday at two o'clock. Elder H. J. Propheter officiating in the funeral services. Interment in the church cemetery nearby.

There seems to be a difference in this obit and the names that Susan Colvin has given as his mother and brother, "August". Need to find out where her information came from.

Susan Colvin has a different date for their marriage of September 27, 1868.....however, this may be incorrect as Anna was born Dec of 1868 and the September 27 day is the same as the day Henry died in 1929. So some confusion here.

In the original list of ancestors we had other names than what is put into this FTM. The latest, which has been imput into this program is somewhat different than what we had originally. As I remember someone about the time of World War II had been in Germany (probably Darrell) and brought this genealogy home. I will include it as I cannot be sure which may be correct. Here is the old one:

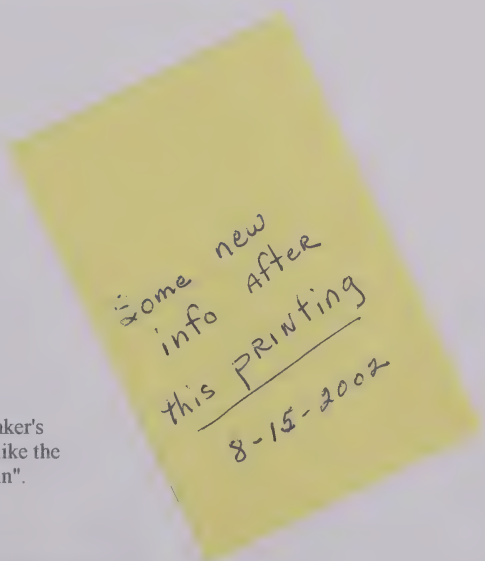
HEINRICH ALTEVOLT and HEDWIG KLINKER
(took the name of Klinker because the farm was named Klinker)
ERNST OR ERNEST KLINKER and _____
HENRICH WILLIAM KLINKER and MENNA
HENRY FREDERICK KLINKER and MARY FRANCES LAMPING

Compare going the other direction:

1. Heinrich William Klinker and Menna compared to
2. Ernst Henrich Wilhelm Klinker and Christine Elsabein Baeumer
(Male close in names but hard to find Menna in the female name)

1. Johanne Arnold Rudolph Klinker and Maria Katherine Elisabeth Oeljectus
2. Ernst Klinker and no wife named
(A little hard here to find Ernst in this long name and there was no wife listed)

1. Gerd Henrick Klinker and Anna Elisabeth Wellemeyers
2. Heinrich Altevolt and Hedwig Klinker
(Well, the Henrich is the same but wonder about the story of taking Hedwig Klinker's farm name for their last name. It is hard since the German has so many names like the Johanne is used as a preface for many German names or can be just used as "John".
Heinrich and Henry are the same
Wilhelm and William are usually the same



It is possible that there was little substantiation for this old genealogy and perhaps Susan Colvin found good substantiated genealogy. More info needed.

To add to the old genealogy we have children of some of these Klinkers which might give insight.
But no dates

Children of Heinrich Altevold and Fran Hedwig Klinker:
Wilhelm Klinker and Sophie
Rudolf Klinker
Frederich Klinker and Emma
Ernst
Children of:
Wilhelm and Sophie.....Rudolf.....Frederich and Emma .....Ernst
1. Wilhelm 1. Rudolf 1. Fritz 1. Frederich
2. Frederick 2. Relinde 2. Paula 2. Heinrich
3. August 3. Ernst ? 3. Berta 3. Emma
4. Fiun ? 4. Adele ? 4. Alma
5. Elfrieda
6. Ernst

Heinrich Frederick and Menna
1. Henry Frederick
Need substantiation for both set of names and facts.
